You will only be paid any bonus payments if you complete the full survey and pass all understanding and attention checks. You are allowed to withdraw from the study at any point of time. You do not have to complete any questions you are uncomfortable with.

About luck and randomness in economics studies: we guarantee, on behalf of the Department of Economics at Stanford University, that when we say that an event is random, it is truly random. When we say that the probability of an event is X%, then this event will happen X out of a 100 times, in expectation. The veracity of all information and instructions given in this study are guaranteed by the Department of Economics at Stanford University as well as the IRB protocol under which this study runs (IRB-42199).

A full set of information required for you to be able to consent to participating in this study follows on the next screen. Full instructions on the study will follow in the course of the study.
